The Collateral shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, nothing herein is any way intended to derogate from any security interest heretofore granted to the Secured Party in and to the Collateral (or any portion thereof). To the extent that Debtor has heretofore granted a security interest to the Secured Party in or to the Collateral (or any portion thereof), Debtor hereby confirms and reaffirms such security interest and the Secured Party's rights and interests under this Agreement shall be deemed to be cumulative with (and not in lieu of) such other rights and security interests.

3.2 Assignment of Accounts. From time to time, and at Secured Party's request, Debtor shall provide Secured Party with schedules describing all Accounts created or acquired by Debtor and shall execute and deliver written assignments of such Accounts to Secured Party; provided, however, that Debtor's failure to execute and deliver such schedules or assignments shall not affect or limit Secured Party's security interest and other rights in and to the Accounts.

3.3 Execution of Documents. Debtor shall execute and deliver to Secured Party, concurrent with Debtor's execution of this Agreement, and at any time or times hereafter at the request of Secured Party, all financing statements, continuation financing statements, fixture filings, security agreements, pledges, chattel mortgages, assignments, endorsements, certificates of title, affidavits, subordination agreements, landlord waivers and consents, reports, notices (including, without limitation, notices to depository secured parties), schedules of accounts, letters of authority and all other documents that Secured Party may reasonably request, in form satisfactory to Secured Party, to perfect and maintain perfected Secured Party's security interests in the Collateral and in order to fully consummate all of the transactions contemplated under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents.

(c) Debtor hereby ratifies, acknowledges and approves any and all acts of Secured Party and its Representatives, and neither Secured Party nor any Representative of Secured Party shall be liable for any acts, omissions to act, error or mistake in judgment, mistake of fact, or mistake of Law that is made by Secured Party or its Representatives in good faith. The appointment of Secured Party or Secured Party's Representative as Debtor's attorney-in-fact, and each and every one of Secured Party's rights and powers, being coupled with an interest, are irrevocable until released in writing by Secured Party.

From and after an Event of Default, that is not cured within the cure period specified in the Note, after notice to Debtor pursuant to Section 9502 of the California Commercial Code, Secured Party or Secured Party's Representative may, at any time, notify lessees, customers or account debtors of Debtor that the Accounts have been assigned to Secured Party and that Secured Party has a security interest therein, collect the Accounts directly, and charge the collection costs and expenses to Debtor's account, and Debtor shall collect all Accounts for the benefit of Secured Party and receive in trust all payments received on account of the Accounts. The receipt of any check or other item of payment by Secured Party shall not be considered a payment on account until such check or other item of payment is honored when presented for payment.

3.6 Modifications of Accounts. Prior to the occurrence of an Event of Default but subject to the terms of this Agreement, Debtor may modify, amend or terminate any account without the consent of Secured Party. From and after the occurrence of an Event of Default, Debtor shall not enter into any new Accounts, leases or rental contracts, settle or modify the terms of any existing Accounts, leases or rental contracts without the prior written consent of Secured Party. After the occurrence of an Event of Default, Secured Party may settle or adjust disputes with the lessees and account debtors upon such terms as it deems advisable and will credit Debtor's account with the amounts so received net of Secured Party's Expenses incurred in connection therewith.

3.7 Restatement and Affirmation Agreements

(a) From time to time, and at no greater time period than monthly, commencing with the time period ending on September 30, 2007 the Debtor shall present to Secured Party an accounting of what it believes to be due under the Note. Each monthly period shall be referred to as an "ACCOUNTING PERIOD". The accounting shall incorporate and reflect the following transactions: (1) the previous amount due (either at inception or as the result of the just previous Restatement and Affirmation Agreement); (2) any advances made by Secured Party, whether by way of transfer to the Debtor, or for the benefit of the Debtor or due the Debtor, or by way of guarantee by the Secured Party; (3) any payments made by Debtor; (4) any interest, costs or fees accruals; and (5) any other item that affects the amount due, whether or not specifically described in the Security Agreement. It shall then state the amount then due at the close of the particular ACCOUNTING PERIOD and state that the Debtor acknowledges that the amount due is indeed due without offset or claim by the Debtor. The accounting is referred to herein as the "ACCOUNTING".

(b) The ACCOUNTING shall be delivered by the Debtor to Secured Party as described in Section 7.1 below no later than the 15th day after the close of each respective ACCOUNTING PERIOD. Thus, the first ACCOUNTING will be due on September 15, 2007.

(c) The Secured Party shall have up to 30 days to approve the ACCOUNTING by signing the ACCOUNTING as "approved", or otherwise in writing indicate his disapprovals, and the reasons why. The parties then must meet and confer to resolve any differences as to the amount due. If the Secured Party and the Debtor cannot so resolve the differences within 15 days then the parties shall refer the matter to the Certified Public Accountant of the Secured Party (who shall be named by Secured Party from time to time) (the "CPA") to resolve the differences for that particular accounting period and determine the amount due as of the close of that particular ACCOUNTING PERIOD. The CPA shall not have the authority to question or adjust any amounts that have already been previously agreed to by the parties under prior accountings and shall only resolve the question of the amount due for the particular ACCOUNTING PERIOD under controversy. The CPA's costs and fees for the tasks described herein shall be paid for by the Debtor.

(d) If the Secured Party takes no action to disapprove any particular ACCOUNTING within the 30 day period after the subject ACCOUNTING is delivered to him under Section 3.7(b) above, then the ACCOUNTING shall be deemed to be approved by the Secured Party.

(e) The amount due by the Debtor under the ACCOUNTING shall be deemed to restate, and affirm, the amount due under the Note as of the end of the ACCOUNTING PERIOD. The amounts determined herein shall be conclusive as between the Secured Party and the Debtor and the Note amount shall be deemed to be automatically adjusted.

(f) The ACCOUNTING, as approved by the Secured Party, or as otherwise agreed to between the Debtor and the Secured Party, or as determined by the CPA under Section 3.7 (c) above, shall be deemed to be the "Restatement and Affirmation Agreement" for the particular ACCOUNTING PERIOD.

(g) In the event that the Debtor does not deliver the ACCOUNTING as described in Section 3.7(b) above, then (1) an Event of Default shall be deemed to have occurred; and (2) the Secured Party shall either prepare the ACCOUNTING himself or instruct the CPA to prepare the ACCOUNTING. The ACCOUNTING shall then be delivered to the Debtor as described in Section 7.1 below. In the situation described in this Section 3.7(g) the Debtor shall not have any right to question the ACCOUNTING, or the amount due under the Note for the particular ACCOUNTING PERIOD under question, unless the Debtor can prove that the ACCOUNTING was fraudulently prepared.
